Illustrated History of Catholicism and the Catholic Saints (Hardback)

By Tessa Paul, Reverend Ronald Creighton-Jobe

Anness Publishing, United Kingdom, 2011. Hardback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book. This is an extensive overview of Catholicism's rich history, beginning with the extraordinary life of Christ and the first centuries of the propagation of faith. It describes the significance and traditions of Catholic ritual, and includes a guide to the important festivals and holy days in the Catholic calendar. It explores the religious and social history of Christian saints from the Holy Family and the Apostles through the medieval period to modern times. It includes biographies for each saint, with historical information about the era in which they lived, what holy works they performed and their feast day. It describes the life and work of hundreds of well-known and much-loved saints, such as St Teresa of Avila, St Francis of Assisi and Edith Stein, as well as entries for lesser-known 1st-century martyrs and African saints of the 19th century. This comprehensive book provides a detailed insight into the world of Catholicism as well as a visual encyclopedia of over 500 saints. The first part of the book, Catholic History, begins with the life of Jesus Christ and looks at how the early church developed. This is...
