By Mary Cowden Clarke

Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from The Life and Labours of Vincent Novello To trace the career of one, who has done perhaps more than any other individual towards spreading a love and cultivation of the best music amongst the least wealthy classes of England, must needs be interesting; and the example afforded by such a life, with the incentive given to persevere in a good resolve, even when circumstances appear far from encouraging, seems sufficient cause for pointing out this example to others, by recording the simple and uneventful biography when forms the subject of the present memoir. In a small house overlooking Hyde Park, - 240, Oxford Street, then called Oxford Road, - an Italian, named Giuseppe Novello, settled with his English wife. To them were born several children; and among the younger was a son named Vincent. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
