Excerpt from Vicissitudes in the Wilderness Exemplified in the Journal of Peggy Dow: To Which Is Added an Appendix of Her Death, and Also, Reflections on Matrimony Were a happy family, although but three in number. We often felt like heaven begun below, Jesus precious to our souls! The preachers made our house their home, at that time, and it was my delight to wait on them. I felt as if I could lie at their feet, and learn instruction from their lips; My chief delight was in going to meeting, and praising and singing praises to my God and Saviour. We had preaching once in two weeks in our neighbourhood, but few attended for nearly two years; yet the preachers continued to preach, and that in faith, and the Lord heard and gave them their hearts desire They formed a little class, consisting only of seven; my brother and sister, two other men and their wives, and myself, composed the society in the place where I lived. We had class-meeting and prayer meeting every week at the beginning; and it was but...
