Your everyday carry (EDC) items are simply the items that you have on your person under almost all circumstances (and all times if it is possible). These items help you to be prepared on a moment's notice to survive emergency scenarios as well as to deal with daily situations that pop up. These items may exist to both aid you in your survival, or to help you get back home or to a safe location. Your EDC should consist of a variety of different items and be unique based on your lifestyle, probable threats, and personal preferences. The items on your everyday carry list should be small in both size and number, and be perfectly possible to carry in your pockets without needing a bag or backpack to lug them around. In this book, we are going to discuss the most critical EDC items to have on your person and a recommendation of a specific make and model for each of those items. The specific items that we will cover in this book include the following: Flashlight Multi-Tool Knife Tactical Pen Paracord Lighter We will talk about the specific qualities that you need to look for in each of these items to ensure that you make the best investment for yourself, and we will also go over a specific make and model that meets each of those qualities.
