SPEECH OF HON.: T. A HENDRICKS (CLASSIC REPRINT)

Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Speech of Hon.: T. A Hendricks We, without the hearing, without the counsel of the men of the South, propose to make a Government which they shall respect and obey. Are the circumstances favorable to this work? How different from the circumstances that surrounded our fathers when they made the Government! Peace then, peace now; but peace then after a war which had united the people; peace now after a war which has made such divisions among us, as that you now say eleven States ought not to be represented in Congress. Again, sir, the fact that there is such a desire to change the Constitution should admonish us that we ought not to attempt the work. I understand that there are seventy propositions to amend the Constitution. In this Hall there have been two or three upon the same subject-matter, two or three amendments that we shall not pay a debt of the South which the South itself has repudiated, which can never according to the terms of the debt itself become due. And covering nearly the entire instrument propositions for amendment are made. I was once, when quite a young man, a member of the Legislature of my State, and nothing struck me as a greater curiosity than the fact that upon certain questions there was a great desire to offer propositions and bills, and especially the stray laws, the road laws, and the school laws. Members from different parts of the State seemed to make a race of speed which should succeed in first getting his proposition before the body. Such a spectacle we to-day witness in regard to the Constitution of...
