Government Printing Office, United States, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book. Immigration attorneys, political scientists, economists, American citizens, (including seventh (7th) grade middle school students and above) may be interested in this resource. It enables research about the historical immigrant classifications and statistical information that pertain to immigrants born outside the United States that have migrated to America with hopes to become citizens. The tables provided in this informational book groups the data into a few subject areas for you to find with ease the information that you may be looking for. These subject areas include: Lawful Permanent Residents/LPRs (Tables 1-12) defined as those persons who have been granted lawful permanent residence in the United States. These individuals are also known as green card recipients. Refugees and Asylees (Tables 13-19) defined as persons who sought residence in the United States in order to avoid persecution in their country of origin. Persons granted refugee status applied for admission while outside the United States. Persons granted asylum applied either at a port of entry or at some point after their entry into the United States. Naturalizations (Tables 20-24) refer to persons aged 18 and over who become citizens of the United States. Most lawful permanent residents are eligible to apply for naturalization within five years after obtaining Lawful Permanent Residents (LPRs) status. Nonimmigrant Admissions (Tables 25-32) refer to arrivals of persons who are authorized to stay in the United States for a limited period of time. Most nonimmigrants enter the United States as tourists or business travelers, but some come to work, study, or engage in cultural exchange programs. Enforcement Actions (Tables 33 -41) include foreign nationals who are determined inadmissible, apprehended, removed, or returned for violating the Immigration and Nationality Act. These actions occur at the borders of the United States, in...
