A ballot was ordered immediately, the candidate elected, and the same evening received the 3d degree. Is this a proper way to proceed in such cases? Has this man become a master mason and member of the Lodge legally? In all cases where a candidate for the 2d or 3d degree has been rejected, a new application, if made at all, should be made in writing, the petition referred to a committee of enquiry, to report at the next stated meeting. When that report is made a ballot can be taken. Any other practice may work injustice, and will most likely introduce discord and contention in the Lodge, which ought to be guarded against by every Master of a Lodge. No man should ever be allowed to come into the Lodge unless he can come with the consent of every member--at least until every member has an opportunity to express his assent or dissent. But, though the Master and Lodge erred in their manner of proceeding, he is legally a member; their fault cannot be visited on him. Unanimity, brethren, is a great and vital principle: guard it sacredly, if you wish your Lodge to prosper. Gone.--Our esteemed Brother, J. B. Van Bergen, of this city, has been carried away with the western fever, and finds a new home in Davenport, Iowa. He will engage in the Cement Roofing business, and we wish him boundless prosperity. The brethren...
