Excerpt from First Annual Report of the National Committee for the Prevention of Blindness: With Which Is Included the Seventh Annual Report of the New York State Committee for the Prevention of Blindness; November, 1915 The new law in Ohio merits special attention, as it includes practically all of the desired provisions for the safeguarding of infants sight, namely, requiring that physicians, midwives, and other attendants report babies sore eyes to local health officers; that health officers follow up reported cases and provide care when necessary; that an appropriation be made to enable the State Department of Health to distribute prophylactic outfits and copies of the reporting law and keep a record Of cases; and fixing a penalty for violating the law. Prevention Of Blindness Work in California. - As I visited San Francisco a short time after the admirable California bill became a law, I was asked to Offer some suggestions which would promote the enforcement of the law. The points emphasized were the importance of wide-spread educational work and the neces sity of having nurses to follow up cases reported to local health officers. Details of such a system were discussed at several meetings and at a number Of conferences with interested persons. The Supervisor of Nurses in the State Department Of Health is endeavoring to have infant welfare and visiting nurses through out the state volunteer their services to local health officers in making this law effective. The San Francisco Commissioner of Health has arranged to take care of reported cases. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
