Excerpt from Annual Report of the Health Department of the City of Richmond, Va: For the Year Ending December 31, 1917 With profound respect, I herewith submit for your consideration the forty-sixth annual report of the Richmond Health Department, bearing the statistical summary of the last five months of my predecessor's incumbency and seven months under my own administration. Any city health officer of the country might well be pardoned a feeling of trepidation at taking charge of a department developed and for eleven years efficiently conducted by such an eminent authority in public health as Dr. Ernest C. Levy. This was distinctly the case with me. Humility and work, however, are not incompatible, and, meeting a desire on the part of the staff to preserve unimpaired the record of the Department, teamwork beyond all praise has been possible. I can therefore, in consequence, bring to you a report showing the lowest death rate ever recorded for the city. I entered office on May 1, 1917, with the problems of the summer season crowding fast upon the Department. This was manifestly no time to make changes in previous plans, even had such action been desirable or necessary. The logical course of carrying forward with energy the plans already made was therefore pursued. The wisdom of this policy has been demonstrated by results. At this point it is appropriate to say that the Health Department fully recognizes the obligation it is under to the Administrative Board of the City of Richmond for the co-operation it has given in the development of health work. The public should realize that the Administrative Board is the Board of Health of Richmond. Its control is absolute,...
