DOWNHILL AND ROCK CORE (PAPERBACK)

Center for Basque Studies UV of Nevada, Reno, United States, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Gabriel Aresti (1933-1975) was the poetic voice of both resistance and renewal for a generation and beyond of Basques in the 1960s and until his untimely death at the age of forty-one. The collections included in the present work, Maldan behera (Downhill, 1960) and Harri eta herri (Rock and Core, 1964), represent two distinct periods in his poetry: the former an epic, dreamlike, and visionary tale of descent and ascent, death and rebirth, a symbolist treatise on resurrection told through the voice of a superman, an Ego. In a complete stylistic about-turn, meanwhile, the latter is a robust, gritty, and direct tract, socially conscious poetry written in a clear, comprehensible form that plays on the metaphor of stone and rock as resistance, endurance. Amaia Gabantxo's stunning translation of these two seminal works from the original Basque--the first time they have been presented in English--brings the urgency and force of the originals to life and will take readers on an unforgettable journey deep into the rock, the core of Basque culture. It may be a bumpy ride at times, but the rewards will live long in the memory. From symbolism to the poetry of social consciousness, Gabriel Aresti's work is considered one of the turning points in the history of Basque literature. Jon Kortazar, from the Introduction: They'll say this ain't poetry and I'll tell them poetry is a hammer. Gabriel Aresti, from Rock Core: That little poem, in many ways, shaped my thought. I took a whole day to write it in beautiful block letters on the cover of one of my school folders. It made me understand the power of...
