Excerpt from Annual Report for the Town of Lee, New Hampshire: For Fiscal Year Ending June 30th, 2000 Although Bob Keniston served as a Selectmen in Lee for twenty-five continuous years longer than anyone since the town was incorporated in 1766 he never thought his historic record was all that remarkable. To Bob, the key to governance in a small town and perhaps life itself was hard work and common sense. He was always a practical, no-nonsense type of man, who took the challenges of running small town on a day-to day basis, looking for solutions that worked and didn't cost too much money. During the years he served as Selectman, from 1945 to 1970, Bob and his fellow Board members kept the town roads in good repair, maintained law and order with a part-time constable, improved the appearance and capacity of the town dump, brought central heating and new toilet facilities to the town hall, moved the old Lee Center School. (one-room) from Lee Hook Road to its present location to become the new Lee Town Library, and enlarged...
