The Tabernacle in the Wilderness: The Pattern for Salvation and Service

By Barbara E. Robinson

Dog Ear Publishing, LLC. Paperback. Condition: New. 112 pages. Dimensions: 8.5in. x 5.5in. x 0.3in. Barbara E. Robinson was born in Canonsburg, Pennsylvania in 1936 and attended schools there and in Philadelphia. She is a mother and grandmother and spent the majority of her adult life in Indianapolis, Indiana, where she raised her children, and later in Noblesville, Indiana. Her interest in the Tabernacle began after doing research on the subject for a presentation at a church retreat. Volunteering in the Young Life ministry brought her to visit Tabernacle Presbyterian Church or, as it is better known, TAB. It was their outstanding contribution to their inner city neighborhood and their childrens community-wide sports program that influenced her to become a member. After joining TAB her interest in the Tabernacle in the Wilderness grew and eventually led to her leading a class on the subject. While residing in Indianapolis she furthered her study of the Bible by attending the Bethel Bible Study and subsequently teaching the class. The years spent volunteering in the churchs Open Door soup kitchen at the church is a treasured time. The pin she received for her one thousand hours of volunteering at Riley Childrens Hospital, Indianapolis, is...
