By Kareem Abdul-Rahman

CreateSpace Independent Publishing Platform. Paperback. Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. 176 pages. Dimensions: 9.0in. x 6.0in. x 0.4in. At only 14 years old Terrel Porter was quickly becoming famous in the hood. He was already one of the most recruited and sought after high school basketball players in the city. Terrel wanted to be famous, but not for basketball. He wanted to be famous in the hood for doing some gangsta type ish. Terrel got his wish when he teamed up with his buddy Gene and the two went on a robbing spree. He began to be known for more than just playing basketball. Terrel was finally starting to get the clout in the hood that hed always dreamed of. A close call and the realization that hed almost threw his future away helps to makes Terrel aware that he is not built for the street life. He quits the life of crime and focuses on school and using the god-given basketball talents that he was lucky enough to be blessed with. Just as he begins to get on track, Terrel finds out that his girlfriend is pregnant with his baby....

Reviews

Here is the finest publication we have read right up until now. It is actually written in easy words instead of difficult to understand. Its been written in a remarkably easy way in fact it is only right after i finished reading this book in which basically changed me, modify the way i really believe.
