Hodder & Stoughton, UK, 1989. Hardcover. Condition: New. The titles in the "Textplus" series, designed to reflect the changing nature of English Literature at advanced post-GCSE level, offer the complete text with a specially commissioned introduction and compact background notes placing the work in historical and critical context. Together, these components are intended to open up the text for students, allowing them to plot their own course of study, to plan extended projects, to compare writers' perspectives on similar themes and to relate works to key social and historical phenomena. Review: "A lively, intensely personal recounting of a voyage into a gifted writer's country and self." --"The New York Times Book Review" "Coasting is a glorious book, written with energy, wit and a melancholy lyricism . . . There's something wonderful on every page of this book." --"The Seattle Times Post-Intelligencer" "Marvelously written and superbly constructed. . . . The sort of book you put among those favorite books you keep on your desk or table . . . the sort you wish you had written yourself." -- Beryl Bainbridge, "The Spectator" "Raban is . . . one of our most gifted observers." --"Newsday" A lively, intensely personal recounting of a voyage into a gifted writer's country and self.
