Excerpt from Ivan at Home: Or Pictures of Russian Life Encouraged by the manner in which my last book on Russia was received, and seeing from that fact the interest that is felt at the present time in that Empire and her people, I have been led to essay these pictures of life and character. In justice to myself, I must repeat that I do not pretend to any literary talent, but have endeavoured simply to recount the results of my own personal experience and observation. I have taken the liberty of spelling the few Russian words that I have been obliged to use, in a manner that I thought a stranger ignorant of the language, going to the country, would the more easily understand.
