UNBRAND: Free our children from the ?bully? label they wear

By Christine A Vassell-Morgan

CreateSpace Independent Publishing Platform. Paperback. Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. 48 pages. Dimensions: 9.2in. x 7.5in. x 0.1in.Zero Tolerance: The privileged vs. the underprivileged Lets open a dialog about zero-tolerance policy and the accused bully. While bullying affects the victims and their families; it also affects the accused and their families, even bystanders and their families. Its not a black-or-white issue; its a societal issue. We cant just bury our heads in the sand and say this will never happen to us. There is no such thing as an exempt status. Anyone can be wrongfully accused! Yes, some of us are more privileged than others and are unlikely to be targeted or branded. Still, we cant forget about those of us who have been or will be wrongfully accused. So often its because weor theyare viewed as less privileged, or because one group believes it is superior to another. We must exercise love, compassion, and empathy. Before we can effect some necessary changes, we must first show how this policy has affected families negatively. Unbrand and Branded may provide a starting point of finding feasible, strategic solutions. I know Branded can help generate a dialog as we...
