William a Graham, of Orange: On the Amendment of the Constitution, in the Senate, December 12th, 1854 I need not remark that, in either aspect, the subject is one of the first magnitude that can employ the deliberations of the Legislature. I regret that it is difficult to discuss it without being, to some extent, tedious and pains-taking; and yet, in my belief, discussion is necessary to its proper comprehension. If I might be permitted to borrow the language of a certain critic, in relation to the works of a great orator of antiquity, and apply it to this topic, in the view presented by the original bill, I would say, with entire respect to all concerned, that it has been more talked about than considered, and considered than understood. Having been a member of the General Assembly of 1834- 5, which enacted the law providing for the ascertainment of the sense of the people in regard to a Convention, for Constitutional Amendment in that day, by virtue of which they...
