Excerpt from Civil Government-the Late Conspiracy: A Discourse, Delivered in Kingston, U. C. December 31, 1837 In order to weaken the influence of the authorities they have conspired to overthrow, and to exasperate their adherents against the individuals whom they have resolved to destroy, these plotters are represented as diligently and minutely investigating, and publishing, and magnifying the errors, and foibles and sins of their hated rulers. They search out iniquities (probably under the names of abuses, oppressions, c., - a patriotic and indispensable duty on some occasions and with right objects in view they accomplish a diligent search. But in all this they are meditating an ulterior, a dark, a deep design. Both the inward thought of every one of them, and the heart, is deep.
