And Other Stories, United Kingdom, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book. Seeing double rows of elegant lime trees around the main square of his hometown of Colonel Pringles, our narrator - who could well be the author himself, although nothing is guaranteed in a book by Cesar Aira - suddenly recalls the Sunday mornings of his childhood, when his father would take him to gather the lime-flower blossoms from which he made tea. Beginning with his father, handsome and `black and working-class, and his strikingly grotesque mother, the narrator quickly leaps from anecdote to anecdote, bringing to life his father s dream of upward mobility, the dashing of their family s hopes when the Peronist party fell from power, the single room they all shared, and his mother s litany of political rants, which were used - like the lime-flower tea - to keep his father calm. Aira s charming fictional memoir is a colourful mosaic of a small-town neighbourhood, a playful portrait of the artist as a child and an invitation to visit the source of Aira s own extraordinary imagination.
