Excerpt: . paused without.1 It is not needful to decide which of the two examples is the better: but certainly promptitude is one of the many excellent gifts which we ought to covet. Reverting now to the earlier of the two Collects we find a distinction drawn between gifts and graces. We pray there that we may not be left destitute of God s manifold gifts, nor yet of grace to use them alway to His honour and glory. It is a most important distinction. All talents, all opportunities, are His gifts: but all such gifts may be in vain: from Him must come the grace to use them aright. 1 John xx. 6. VII. COLLECT FOR THE SEVENTH SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY. THE DIVINE GIVER OF ALL GOOD. Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of...
