Excerpt from Life of Tecumseh and of His Brother the Prophet: With a Historical Sketch of the Shawanoë Indians The original seats of the Shawanoë have been placed in different sections of the country. This has doubtless been owing to their very erratic disposition. Of their history, prior to the year 1680, but little is known. The earliest mention of them by any writer whose work has fallen under our observation, was in the beginning of the seventeenth century. Mr. Jetfer son, in his Notes on Virginia, says that when captain John Smith first arrived in America, a fierce war was raging against the allied Mohicans, residing on Long Island, and the Shawanoë on the Susquehanna, and to the westward of that river, by the Iroquois. Cap tain Smith first landed on this continent in April, 1607. In the following year, 1608, he penetrated down the Susquehanna to the mouth of it, where he met six or seven of;their canoes, filled with warriors, about to attack their enemy in the rear. De La et, in 1632, in his enumeration, of the different tribes,...
