MICROSTRIP PATCH ANTENNA FOR LEO SATELLITE COMMUNICATIONS

Condition: New. Publisher/Verlag: LAP Lambert Academic Publishing | Basics, Theory and Application | In LEO satellite applications, a circularly polarized satellite antenna is desirable with a pattern that results in constant received power while the distance between the transmitter and the receiver is changing. A special type microstrip antenna satisfies these requirements along with their requirements for the satellite antenna. A complete theory, design, manufacture, test and evaluation processes of the microstrip patch antenna is discussed in this book. The...
