FBC LTD, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from University Gazette, Vol. 10: October 22, 1886 To such students as have the grasp of mind to do it, we recommend that they read carefully the preface, the introduction and the table of contents of each of fii eir;text-bedks, and get, so far as they can, an out subject treated of, and then in pre paring each lesson note its place in the generalplan of the book. This method of procedure they will find will give them, to an extent, while first going through the advantages of a review, and make their labors easier and more efficient. As far as possible the student should arrange the succession of his studies so that his mind Will he kept fresh: Nine hours of sleep, at the most, is all one needs, There are fifteen hours left to be occupied and they may he so occupied, that every minute shall count, and not one be wasted. Recreation and rest axe as much a duty as is study, and many ofthe extereises of the student may well stand in t eplaoe Learning how to make snch a-n adjiistment of one s time to his duties as gives the largesttresults for the hours invested is no mean accomplishment. - New York Weekly Tribune.
