

The Captain's Table: Life and Dining on the Great Ocean Liners

By Edington, Sarah.

Conway. 1 Cloth(s), 2005. hard. Book Condition: New. Opulently appointed and extravagantly staffed, the great ocean liners of the 20th century were equally famous for their sumptuous dining. In this book Sarah Edington recalls the glamour and excitement of life on these elegant ships through the creativity of their cuisine, illustrated with authentic menus, color and black and white photos, and reproductions of art. A food writer and tour guide to historical kitchens as well as a former caterer herself, Edington has expertly re-created a selection of some 70 classic recipes from the First, Second and Tourist Class dining rooms for the modern cook, and offers revealing stories on their origins. "An elegant book about the great days of ocean liners, when passengers really knew how to eat and drink on board ship and dressed in great style to do so. The author gives us an anecdotal history of these floating islands of gourmet pleasure, which enjoyed their golden age in the 1930s. Apart from the atmospheric photographs and illustrations, the great joy of this book are 70 or so classic recipes, all of them taken from original menus and adapted for a modern audience." Mail on Sunday (London) 144.
