

Intervention: How Humanity from the Future Has Changed Its Own Past (Hardback)

By Alan Butler

Paul Watkins, United Kingdom, 2012. Hardback. Book Condition: New. 239 x 157 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. Many key events in the history of humankind show evidence of having been intended by human beings from the future, who took specific actions that would steer the world in a particular direction. This intervention theory is based on sound mathematical and scientific arguments, consistent with Einstein s demonstration of the possibility of time travel. Time travellers - some of them anonymous, some celebrated in history - have made alterations to our planetary and global environment (the creation of the Moon, the extinction of the dinosaurs) that were necessary to allow us to exist and to develop as an intelligent species. They have also left us markers that show what steps we need to take to progress further. All these interventions were placed retroactively within the timeline for future generations, not for those immediately affected. Key interventions include: The creation of the Moon If the Moon did not exist, nor would we. The author demonstrates that the Moon was built to make it possible for the Earth to become an incubator of life. The metal revolution The development of humanity s...
