Reviews

It is one of my personal favorite books. It is one of the most incredible ebooks I have ever gone through. You will not feel monotony at any moment of your own time (that's what catalogues are for relating to if you ask me).

SCM PRESS, United Kingdom, 2012. Paperback. Book Condition: New. New edition. 212 x 140 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.The reviews of this book which greeted its appearance in America, where it won a Catholic Press Association Religious Book Award, speak for themselves. The real core of the book is the question that is raised - the demanding bone-crushing question we all face - alone - at one time - the question of death/life and immortality. In these few pages we set out on a journey - one that winds its way among ancient stories and myths .one s constant disturbing companion is death - a reality that keeps breaking in upon our imes, our friends, our dreams and hopes and even our changing and becoming. The richness of the book lies in the questioning and some of the answers other men s times have given in attempt to live with this probing. We meet Kazantzakis, Homer, Melville, Hegel, Dante in their humanness in the face of death and in their timeless answers (National Catholic Reporter). From the Protestant side, Martin Marty commented how John Donne, perhaps the most intuitive and natively talented Catholic around, has cast a new spell , and The Critic remarked: As a meditation ought to be, it is simple and profound at once. And it is beautifully done, in some ways the richest of John Dunne s works. All of which amounts to an invitation to join the author as he poses the timeless dilemma of the human condition and seeks to resolve it through stories of adventures, journeys and voyages inspired by man s encounter with death; stories of childhood, youth, manhood and age; and finally stories of God and of man wrestling with God and the unknown.
