Excerpt from Cumorah s Southern Cross, Vol. 4: April, 1930 The Jewish people of that day seemed to have had no clear conception of graded conditions in the hereafter; they thought of but two places, states or conditions, beyond the grave - Heaven and Hell. Wisely the Master avoided answering a good question because His hearers were not fully prepared to understand the truth involved. However, He gave them prae tical lessons - told them to look to them selves, told them that in the future some would come up claiming acquaintanceship with Him and He would say to them: I know you not whence ye are. In the same sense in which the ex pression is used here, God knows not them who know not Him. Our knowledge of God depends upon mutual acquaintance. He knows those who know Him, and He is ready and willing to acknowledge acquaintanceship, and close acquaintance ship at that, with those who have drawn near unto Him, not in outward form or by wordy phrase, but in sincerity of heart. True, the Scriptures generalise the future estate of the righteous as Heaven, and the opposite as Hell, without giving warrant, however, for the belief that but twd places or realms are provided, to one or the other of which every soul is to be consigned according to the balance sheet of his life s account, perhaps on a small margin of merit or guilt. Equally unscriptural is the inference that the state of the soul at death determines his place and environment throughout eternity forever deprived of opportunity to pro gress.
