And now the practice was over for the afternoon. The whistle between coachs lips sounded three prolonged blasts, and the young players, flushed, perspiring--aching a bit, too--came off the field. Togs were laid aside and some time was spent under the shower baths and in toweling. Only a small part of the late crowd of watchers remained at the athletic field. But the kicker and his companion were among those who stayed. Coach Morton stood for a time talking with some citizens who had lingered. As most of these men were contributors to the athletic funds they were anxious for information. Do you consider the prospects good for the team this year asked one man. Yes, replied Mr. Morton promptly. Is the School eleven decided upon in detail questioned another. No; of course not, as yet. Each day some of the young men develop new points--of excellence, or otherwise. The division into School and second teams, that you saw this afternoon, may not be the final division. In fact, not more than five or six of the young men have been definitely picked as sure to make the School team. We shall have it all decided within a few days. But youre rather certain, insisted another, that Gridley is going to have as fine a School team as it has ever had It would be going too far to say that, replied Coach Morton slowly. The truth is, we never know anything for certain until we have seen our boys play through the first game. Our judgment is even more reliable after theyve been through the second game. By this time, some of the football...
