Xulon Press. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 356 pages. Dimensions: 8.0in. x 5.3in. x 1.0in. This book addresses the most pernicious heresy at work in the church world-wide: dualism. The idea that church work is sacred but business and other work in the world is secular is so deeply rooted that only a paradigm shift in thinking and acting can break down this barrier and bridge the gap between Sunday and Monday. Neo Ban Seng has an explosive message in this book-not just that it is OK to work in the world but it is part of our worship of God. But Worship Work is not just about liturgy. It covers most of the dimensions of life in the workplace, from sex to ethics. It is a good read but even more. This book could be a transformative influence for men and women in business, trades and homemaking. R. Paul Stevens Professor Emeritus, Marketplace Theology, Regent College Author, Doing Gods Business and Work Matters We do not just spend hours at work; over our lifetimes we spend years there. That is too much time wasted if we are not purposefully living for Christ in our workplaces, simply because they are not considered a spiritual environment. Regardless of your industry, specialty or responsibilities, your true title is Child of God. Read Worship Work to see what your working life looks like through the lens of worshipping God. Neo Ban Seng is a Partner of a Big Four accounting and advisory firm. He worships at The House of Prayer, where he is an elder of the church. In 1994, Ban Seng took a sabbatical for theological studies at Regent College, Vancouver. Thereafter, he returned to his job in the marketplace. Ban Seng's ministry passion is in equipping fellow Christian workers, businessmen and women...
