Bluffing his way into jobs from Maine to California, he touts horses at a racetrack, works on an oil rig, and chauffeurs an alcoholic widow from Mexico City to a motorcycle rally in New Hampshire. He becomes an explosives expert, and engineers projects for drug traffickers. With the law closing in, he flees to Central America. When a friend is threatened, Jack's code demands retribution, and includes exacting the ultimate price. A fierce protector of those close to him, he's a good guy to have your back. A recovering corporate executive, Bill Goodwin is now a sailor who writes about the characters he meets in the international cruising community. He and his wife Susie divide their time between Maine and Central America.
