

Modified External Tray Technique for Fabrication of Eye Prosthesis

By Singh, Bijay / Sinha, Nidhi

Condition: New. Publisher/Verlag: LAP Lambert Academic Publishing | Technique, various materials, Types of eye prosthesis, recent advances, case reports of 3 patients | Treatment of maxillofacial patients has always be a challenge to the prosthodontists all over the world because of the multifactorial nature of the problems. There has been much debate among the professionals about the techniques to be followed in the rehabilitation. This book is an insight into the various techniques used in the fabrication of the eye prosthesis, with special emphasis on modified external tray technique. This technique is explained in detail in this book with the aim to help the academicians as well as the practitioners. The book discusses the technique in detail with illustrations. Case reports of 3 patients who are successfully rehabilitated using modified external tray technique is demonstrated with pictures of each step. various materials, implants used in eye prosthesis and future trends are also covered in brief. The technique described in this book is very cost effective, easy to practice and ensures predictable excellent esthetic results. The material used in this technique is easy to use, adjust and biocompatible with the tissues. | Format: Paperback | Language/Sprache: english | 76 pp.

READ ONLINE
[7.25 MB]

Reviews

Here is the best ebook i actually have go through until now. It really is simplistic but shocks within the fifty percent in the ebook. Your daily life period will probably be transform once you total reading this book.

-- Elaina Funk

Undoubtedly, this is the finest job by any article writer. it had been writtern very perfectly and beneficial. Its been printed in an exceedingly simple way in fact it is only following i finished reading this ebook by which basically modified me, modify the way in my opinion.

-- Lane Dicki