Excerpt from Exercises in Celebration of the Seventy-Fifth Anniversary of Hartford Theological Seminary: May 23d to 26th, 1909 The duty laid upon me on this august occasion is no easy duty. That it falls to me arises from the accident that I am the only remaining relic in the faculty of a regime that is now almost a piece of antiquity. Yet, in the economy of society, as in that of geology, even fossils have their use. At first sight, perhaps, one who has been connected with this Seminary for more than a quarter-century might be expected to speak with assurance of its history. But, on the other hand, it is clear that I have stood too close to its heart to behold it with the objective and dispassionate eye of a critical historian. So, by your leave, I shall today speak simply as a humble annalist of but selected topics, remarking upon them only from certain points of personal observation. My task is indefinitely lightened by the fact that in 1884, at our Fiftieth Anniversary, we were privileged to hear a...
