Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from A Letter to the Lord Chief Justice Campbell: Containing Remarks Upon the Conduct of the Prosecution and the Judges; With Strictures on the Charge Delivered to the Jury, Illustrative of Its Dangerous Tendencies to the Long-Enjoyed Rights and Privileges of Englishmen Arter a struggle with internal emotions too dreadful to be described, amid the tears and lamentations of my family, the bereavement of a household knit together in bonds of strongest love and amity, and the smothered, not wholly concealed indignation of relatives and friends - I address your Lordship, not only as the man who has sealed my Brother s fate, and borne him to the foot of the scaffold, but as the Judge, who will have to render an account to your fellow-men, to posterity, and to God, of your dealing towards a human being, whose fate was, to a certain extent, placed in your hands, and on whose destiny you operated in a manner hitherto unknown, at least in our days. The Law, with bitter irony, propounds it as an axiom, dear to Englishmen, that a Magistrate invested with powers like your Lordship is counsel for the prisoner; but, every man who witnessed the late mockery at the Old Bailey, in which you played so prominent a part, confesses - to his own heart, at least, whatever he may own in public - that a more infamous delusion has never been solemnly enacted before a. British audience, since those days of shame, when J effreys went forth upon the bloody assize, and, in the name of Justice and the Law, con signed the young, the innocent, the helpless, and the stricken with years, to the dungeon and the...
